STEEL CAR CO. IMPORTS TWO THOUSAND MEN

TO MAN PLANT WHERE STRIKE HAS SUSPEND-ED WORK.

SUNDAY RIOT AT BUTLER,
ALL PEACEFUL ELSE-WHERE.

Pittsburgh, July 19.—Two thousand strike-breakers entered the Pressed Steel Car plant this morning, according to officials of the company. The situation is quiet, though it is feared that there will be an outbreak before the day is over.

Trouble On Sunday.
Taking the striking employees of the Standard Steel Car company by surprise a squad of the state constabulary arrived from Punxsutawney late Sunday afternoon to guard the company's property at Lynded. The strikers, angered by the appearance of the troops, gathered around the plant yard and in a clash with the mounted troopers, one striker was probably fatally shot, two members of the crowd were wounded and a few injured.

The entrance of five hundred employees of the Standard Wheel company into the ranks of the 2,500 striking Pressed Steel Car company employees makes the situation at Butler ominous.

The men on strike at both plants are unorganized. The principal contention is that both the car and wheel companies are working plants to the full capacity, but refuse to pay wages in proportion to the amount of work turned out.

At McKee's Rocks.
The turmoil and sense of imminent uprising which pervaded the vicinity of the plant of the Pressed Steel Car company at McKee's Rocks the past week was succeeded by quiet Sunday.

At the various gates of the mile square stockade enclosing the various shops, groups of deputies stood guard but the streets lately patrolled by state constabulary were unguarded.

Quiet at Butler.
Butler, Pa., July 19.—The situation here is quiet today, following last night's disturbance when the troops and constabulary charged the crowd of thousands of sight-seers and strikers at the Standard Steel Car company's plant. The shooting at yesterday's disorder is said today to be due to nervousness on the part of the deputy.

O'Rear Favors Burly Pool.
Georgetown, Ky., July 19. (Special.)—Judge O'Rear spoke today in favor of the burly society. It is believed Cantrell will answer.

Eagles Beat Roadsters.
The Eagles and the Mayfield road played a fast, snappy game of baseball yesterday afternoon on the shop diamond, ending in the score of 8 to 1 in favor of the Eagles. Some good plays were made on both sides. Beloch in right garden did some star fielding and Flynn in center did good work. Nichols also made a few of the Mayfield roads lay down the stick. The same teams will play again next Sunday as the Mayfield roads are anxious to even up the score.

NEW SHAH AT PALACE
Revolutionist Leaders Are Given Ministerial Offices.

Teheran, July 19.—The new shah, accompanied by his tutor and a British and Russian escort, drove today from the Russian legation to Sultanahtal palace. As the shah entered the palace the escort returned to the legation, this signifying that they are no longer under Russian protection. A brief ceremony was held at the palace at which the regents and other members of the national council proclaimed the new sovereign. It is believed he will be sent abroad to study. Perfect order prevails.

Splendid is now minister of war; Sardarsad minister of the interior and Husein Gouli, minister of foreign affairs.

Water Transportation.

Washington, July 19. (United Press.)—Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of commerce and labor, submitted the following report on transportation by water in the United States to the president:

"Sir: I have the honor to submit herewith Part II of the report on transportation by water in the United States. This part discusses the freight carried by water. Part I, already published, dealt with the waterways themselves. Additional parts, dealing with terminals, rates, railway relations and control, are in course of preparation.

"There are two main classes of freight—(1) bulk freight, usually raw materials and of comparatively low value; (2) merchandise freight, so called, usually in packages, of higher value and mainly the product of factories. Official statistics of water traffic are very incomplete.

"Over 75 per cent of our total water-borne domestic traffic (excluding harbor and raft traffic) consist of raw materials and low-grade products, such as coal, iron ore, stone, sand, lime, phosphate, oil, cement, brick, ice, pig iron, and steel rails, lumber and naval stores, agricultural products; all bulk freight.

"Bulk freight is better fitted for water transportation, because neither swiftness nor especial care is usually required and its points of delivery are usually more concentrated. Conversely, water carriers often thus fail to get their corresponding share of back load from the merchandise products of the raw materials brought by them to the factories.

"A comparison of different methods is enlightening. We have, roughly, three great transportation systems—(1) rail; (2) deep water (coastwise and Great Lakes); (3) rivers and canals.

"From 1889 to 1906 there has been (1) enormous increase in rail traffic; (2) a great increase of Great Lakes and coastwise traffic; (3) a decrease on the Mississippi river system and the inland canals, which practically represent the third class.

Deep Water.
"Atlantic and Gulf Coasts—Here the through freight is very largely bulk; chiefly coal, lumber, phosphate, naval stores, cotton, refined oil, sugar, rice, and fruit. The great-

Southern Railroad War Means Development for N. C. & St. L.

Indications Are That Road is Making Preparations to Handle Traffic From Burlington.

Investigation of conditions on the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis, says a Memphis dispatch, corroborates all that the Manufacturers' Record had to say of the proposed understanding between the Illinois system and the L. & N. as to shipments south, via the Herring Southern branch of the Burlington and the N. C. & St. L. to Memphis and the Middle Tennessee, the present northern terminus of the Mobile, Jackson & Kansas City, another of the Burlington lines, reaching Mobile.

Several surveys have been made from Middleton to points on the N. C. & St. L., indicating an intention to rush the work as soon as the best route is selected.

At Memphis the L. & N. claims to be more advantageously situated than any other of the roads entering the city, and terminal work there is on a scale far out of proportion to the requirements of the N. C. & St. L., as now constituted.

The N. C. & St. L. roadbed and tracks are being constantly brought up to the highest standard, and all preparations indicate an expectation of greatly increased traffic soon.

At Paducah no permanent arrangements for the use of the Illinois Central terminals are anticipated; he cause the Burlington people feel that they have things about the way they wish them, and a fight for the gulf trade between the Hill and Harriman systems, such as has been experienced across the continent the last few years, is expected. The Herring Southern and the L. & N. are expected to make a deal with the Paducah Northern for terminals into Paducah.

Recently the N. C. & St. L. let contracts to build new steel bridges which is in line with its general policy of strengthening its trackage. Superintendent Hills, of the Paducah division, said the track has been put in condition already to handle any amount of traffic.

Red Sox Lose Game.
The Red Sox lost to the Golconda, Ill., team at Golconda yesterday by a score of 8 to 3. Hanners pitched for the Red Sox and did creditable work, although the Golconda boys did down the Paducah lads.

Fatal Family Feud.
Wheeling, W. Va., July 19.—The sheriff with his posse left this morning to arrest Edward Sagerwald, charged with attempting the murder of Mrs. John Cuppy as the result of a family feud. The families clashed today and shots were fired on both sides. Mrs. Cuppy was fatally wounded.

Cattle Breeders to Meet.
Denver, July 19.—A call has been issued for a convention of cattle breeders in the United States to be held at Denver in January. Packers and beef producers are back of the movement. They will discuss the high price of beef, which is said to be going so high they fear it will make it prohibitive on the masses of the people.

THE WEATHER.

Fair tonight and Tuesday. Highest temperature yesterday, 93; lowest today, 60.

Prisoners Who Made Daylight Escape From McCracken County Jail Caught in Adjoining County

Two Housebreakers Get In Toils in Tennessee and Will Childress Ends Career of Freedom in Illinois.

Three of the negroes, who escaped from the county jail by digging through the wall have been captured and are now under arrest awaiting to be brought back to Paducah. Henry Davis, colored, charged with housebreaking and obtaining money by false pretenses, and Sam Dodd, colored, charged with housebreaking, were under arrest at Lexington, Tenn. County Jailor Esker left yesterday afternoon for Lexington. Will Childress, colored, alias "Yaller Boy," is under arrest at Mound City, Ill.

The two negroes were seen camping near Lexington, Tenn., and the sheriff telephoned to the Paducah officials. He described the two suspects and as the descriptions suit two of the jailbirds he was requested to arrest and hold them until an investigation was made. When arrested the negroes acknowledged they were escaped prisoners, by promptly informing the sheriff they would not return without requisition papers.

Childress was awaiting trial for malicious shooting. He was the easiest of all the prisoners to identify as all of the fingers on his left hand are amputated.

Editors Play Politics.
Seattle, July 19.—Delegates to the National Editorial association session are here, playing politics over the election of A. N. Tomeroy, of Chambersburg, Pa., or J. T. Baumgartner, of Santa Ana, Cal., leading candidates for the presidency.

Some One Placed Rails in Road.
What might have resulted in a serious accident occurred last night when a party riding in an automobile started on the cross road between Hinkleville and Cairo Road. Someone placed two large rails down in the middle of the road. Had the machine ran over the rails a serious accident probably would have occurred.

MR. JOHN VAN CULIN IS BETTER THIS MORNING.

Mr. John VanCulin, who formerly resided in Paducah, is ill in a hospital in Philadelphia, but his condition this morning was better, according to a telegram received by his brother, Nolen and David VanCulin. Mr. VanCulin was taken ill while visiting a friend at Camden, N. J. The news of his illness was received Saturday night, and Mrs. David VanCulin left immediately, reaching his bedside this morning. She wired that he was improved. The cause of his illness is unknown.

Two Couples Wed at Metropolis.
Metropolis, Ill., July 19. (Special.)—Magistrate Thomas Liggett married two couples yesterday. Charles R. Hills, of Paducah, and Ethel Clyner, of Springfield, Tenn.; Henry Reed, of Metropolis, and Anna Fowler, of Metropolis.

Latham's Aeroplane Dives Into Channel

Calais, France, July 19.—Hubert Latham attempted to sail across the English channel in his monoplane and dropped into the water eight miles out. He was picked up by the French torpedo boat destroyer Harpon. The monoplane was towed to Calais by tugs. The start was made early before a great crowd of spectators. The aeroplane rose easily and at a great speed directly west and soon was outside the sight of the shore observers. The news of the start was sent by wireless. When the ship failed to show up on the other side, people became anxious and patrols started busily to find the aeronaut. The Harpon started in the wake of the airship at the start. It found Latham clinging to the frame and the ship floating on the water. The monoplane practically was uninjured by the fall. Latham says he will try again as soon as repairs of slight damage to the craft are made. Latham was 350 feet in the air when his machine refused to work. It slid down within a short distance of the water and then dove and floated and Latham clung to the framework. He was uninjured in the fall. The monoplane besides the soaking is uninjured. "The way the machine behaved convinces me I can cross the channel," Latham said. "I will make a flight as soon as I can put the airship in readiness for the attempt."

When Latham landed from the Harpon he was surrounded by the crowd. Women swarmed about him, kissing the aeronaut. He was greatly embarrassed and was rescued by friends.

Latham explained the failure of his engine to work properly as the cause of the difficulty. He said the engine began to behave badly after the seventh mile and finally stopped altogether. Count Lambert complimented Latham on his flight. Lambert will try to cross the channel in a Wright machine soon.

Quits Race for Legislature.
Hardwell, Ky., July 19.—The Hon. J. T. Davis has withdrawn from the race. Representative from the legislature is composed of Carlisle and Ballard counties. The only candidate thus far announced is George H. Reed of Wickliffe. There are several prospective candidates.

Cured by Her Faith.
New York, July 19.—Priests of the church of St. Jean Baptiste today are seeking a woman, who reported she was cured of blindness through the strength of her faith in a relic, a bit of wrist bone of St. Anne enshrined at the church. Several persons report the cure but none of the priests saw it. It is said the woman groped her way to the altar after praying and turned away shouting "I can see."

PRESIDENT TAFT ACCEPTS INVITATION TO TAKE RIDE DOWN OLD MISSISSIPPI

OFFICERS WALKED
PLANK AFTER THEY HAD SAID PRAYERS

Tingler, July 19.—The Spanish ship Esperanza worked back here today. She told a story of the mutiny of 150 Moorish passengers, who wanted to land at Mellin to join the rebel army. The Spanish crew of seventeen refused to land, and then a desperate fight ensued, in which four Moors were killed. Sailors were captured, and the Spanish officers were carried to the side of the vessel, and granted time to pray and were thrown overboard. The Moors made the rest of the crew run the boat to Mellin, where they landed. Then the remnant of the crew worked back here, where the affair was reported.

Fire at Houston.
Houston, Tex., July 19.—Four buildings of the Houston Belt Terminal company burned this morning at a loss of $75,000. Three locomotives were destroyed.

Special Session at Murray.
Murray, Ky., July 19. (Special.)—A special session of civil court began this morning to rid the docket of an abundance of cases. A number of lawyers from Paducah and Mayfield are attending the special session. Only civil cases will be tried.

La Center Lost Game.
La Center, July 19.—The Cairo Sylphs defeated the La Center team yesterday by a score of 8 to 5. The feature of the game was the heavy hitting of Whitcamp. In the seventh inning, with three men on base, he lined out a hot three bagger. The battery for the Sylphs was Kobler and Keblor, and for La Center, Knob and Jones.

Judge Blalock Dead.
Princeton, Ky., July 19. (Special.)—Judge David B. Blalock, a Republican and one of the best county judges Caldwell ever had, died last night at 11:45 o'clock, after a two weeks' illness of malarial and brain fever. Judge Blalock was elected county judge in 1905 on the Republican ticket, and had distinguished himself before, by serving as magistrate in a Democratic district. He had more bridges built in the county than any other judge and this made him a favorite with the people. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at Princeton.

Landrum's Conditions.
Frankfort, Ky., July 19.—Five years of good conduct and abstinence from the use of intoxicating liquors as well as gambling are required of Hubbard J. Landrum, of Smithland, in order to earn a full and free pardon for the crime of embezzlement with which he is charged in the Livingston circuit court. This unusual decree was granted today by Governor Willson. The pardon is effective July 17, 1914, if in the meantime the young man lives a proper life. Young Landrum is a son of George W. Landrum, a prominent Democrat of western Kentucky, who was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for railroad commissioner in First district the last time that the late McD. Ferguson was nominated. Young Landrum, who was only 18 years old at the time he took the money, has been trying to live down the charge against him and has done everything in his power to make up for the only slip of which he has ever been guilty. The governor refused to grant a pardon, some time ago, but at that time said the case had not been closed.

Age is no barrier to the darts of Cupid. This morning J. S. Stackhouse, a farmer residing on the Seed road in the Clark's river section, was granted a license to wed Mrs. Annie Bacon, of Marshall county. The groom gave his age as 65 years while the bride is 62 years old. The marriage will take place in Marshall county.

DON CARLOS DEAD.
Spauldard Who Contended He was the Legal Heir to the Throne.
Rome, July 19.—Don Carlos, of Bourbon, pretender to the Spanish throne, died today at Varese in Lombardy. He was ill a long time and the latest reports indicated that he was suffering from apoplexy with accompanying paralysis.

JAPS DROP DEAD
AT INSPECTION
IN FIERCE HEAT

Tokio, July 19.—Great indignation is expressed at the recent inspection of troops at Takasaki, which resulted in the death of six men, while 22 are reported dying in hospitals. The thermometer registered 135 and the humidity was great. In spite of this the men were forced to march in full field equipment. Men dropped in their tracks, but the drill continued until the full inspection was complete. The press demands a court-martial of officers who caused the needless hardships. So intense was the heat it has been reported that scores of civilians were overcome. Many are dying and cattle are dying by thousands.

Twenty-five Governors Join in Urging Him to Go.

Conferees Accept Wickersham's Corporation Tax Scheme.

Washington, July 19.—The tariff conference today agreed to adopt the corporation tax amendment as re-drafted by Wickersham. The tax is one per cent and holding companies are exempt. Wickersham and Root appeared before the committee to explain the details of the measure.

This week is expected to be the crucial one in the tariff fight. It will determine, congressmen declare, what concessions Taft can wring from the conference committee. Members of the committee profess to be with him in his effort to get reductions, but they declare it will be great difficulty to get a vote to pass the bill. It seems probable now, it is said, that free iron ore will be secured, but it is doubtful if other reductions will be granted.

Taft on the River.
President Taft gave his promise today to a delegation of St. Louis citizens, who came to invite him to visit St. Louis late in October or early in November and take a trip down the river to New Orleans to attend the convention of the deep waterways congress. The delegation presented letters from 25 governors urging him to make the trip.

Funeral of L. L. Buck.
Mrs. Buck and Mrs. Palmer and Miss Gould left at once for Hastings-on-the-Hudson, where Leters L. Buck died. The body will be taken to Canton, O., for burial.

Was Justified.
Cleveland, O., July 19.—The police believe that James Purvis, the non-union engineer who shot and killed Richard Brown and William Woods, sailors, Saturday night, was justified as an engineer rightfully defending himself. Purvis will be arraigned, but it is expected he will be discharged.

Crane is Welcome.
Pekin, July 19.—Charles R. Crane, of Chicago, who was chosen as American minister to China, is persona grata to the Chinese government. The grand council has authorized the foreign board to inform the Washington government that China will gladly receive Crane.

Preacher Wins Suit Against Church.
Herrin, Ill., July 19.—The Rev. Matthew J. McNeill, deposed pastor of the Union Ridge Baptist church, south of this city, has received a judgment for $40.86 in a suit against the church for the balance of his salary. He was made to resign by the church because some of the members fell out with him, and he entered suit to recover the amount of salary due him.

Age is no barrier to the darts of Cupid. This morning J. S. Stackhouse, a farmer residing on the Seed road in the Clark's river section, was granted a license to wed Mrs. Annie Bacon, of Marshall county. The groom gave his age as 65 years while the bride is 62 years old. The marriage will take place in Marshall county.

DON CARLOS DEAD.
Spauldard Who Contended He was the Legal Heir to the Throne.

Rome, July 19.—Don Carlos, of Bourbon, pretender to the Spanish throne, died today at Varese in Lombardy. He was ill a long time and the latest reports indicated that he was suffering from apoplexy with accompanying paralysis.

Don Carlos, who claimed under the special law of succession established by Phillip V. to be the legitimate king by the title of Charles VII., was born in Austria in 1848. His father was a brother of Don Carlos, Charles VI., in support of whose claims the Carlist rising of 1848, 1865 and 1890 was organized.

The rights of Charles VI., devolved upon his brother Don Juan. In 1808 Juan abdicated in favor of his son, whose standard was raised in northern Spain in 1872. Don Carlos himself entered Spain in July, 1873. Then followed the "four years' war," which ended in January, 1876, when Tolosa, the last stronghold of the Carlists, fell. Subsequent Carlist agitations have been of little importance.

Don Juan to Act.
Paris, July 19.—Don Juan gave the impression that he will follow the policies of his father, Don Carlos and make the Carlist movement more and more aggressive.

Local Conditions.
Local sales naturally have dropped off almost to the vanishing point; because practically all the independent tobacco has been delivered under contract, and the association tobacco has been sold as fast as graded. Loose leaf sales are expected to increase greatly this year, though no competition is anticipated for the Campbell auction house. Buyers for the European markets are accustomed to riding through the country and buying from the planters direct; and this method will be followed the next year.
The loose leaf floor, however, fills a want, as the buyers are enabled there to pick up specialties and get tobacco quickly to supply an urgent demand, and the sales will be just as lively as they were this year; when buyers frequently came from Louisville to attend the sales.
While there have been serious losses in the lowlands of Daviess and McLean counties by floods, it is believed the crop over this district has not been seriously damaged as yet. Prices are expected to maintain approximately the present level next year.
Prices on the Paducah market the last week were: Common lugs 3 to 3 1/2; low leaf, 5 to 5 1/2; common grade leaf, 5 1/2 to 6; medium, 6 to 7 1/2; good, 7 1/2 to 9. In hogsheds lugs ranged from 4 to 6; low leaf 6, and good leaf 11.

AEROPLANE IS A TOTAL WRECK

FRIGHTENED AMATEUR ATTEMPTED TO MAKE FLIGHT.

Rendered Unconscious From Terrible Fall, But Injuries Will Not Prove Fatal.

CURTIS JUST MADE ASCENT

New York, July 19.—A frightened amateur ascended at dawn Sunday in Glen H. Curtis' aeroplane, which hovered for a moment in the air and then crashed to the earth. The beautiful craft wherein Curtis made his remarkable flight yesterday was badly wrecked and the amateur aviator Alexander Williams was lifted unconscious from the twisted frame, his left arm broken, his left thumb dislocated, his body bruised and his brain reeling. His injuries, however, are not serious.

The accident occurred at Hamstead Plain, Long Island, where Curtis had been giving demonstrations for the New York Aeronautic society to which he recently sold the aeroplane for $5,000.

Williams seemed to lose control of himself as the aeroplane arose. When it had risen thirty feet, the craft careened sharply, swooped downward, struck on end and turned completely over on its back. Williams was delirious and muttered that some one collided with him.

Williams' rescue was followed by a successful flight by Edward Foster Willard. Curtis had also made a beautiful flight.

A Ten-Inning Game.

In one of the best games played on the Paducah diamond this season the B. B. Hook baseball team defeated the Welles by a score of 3 to 7 after the game went ten innings. During most of the game it was three men up and three down as both Connell and Illike were in splendid shape. The Welles took the lead in the early innings and until the sixth inning had the game by a score of 4 to 0. In the sixth inning the Hooks had the sacks full when Berger knocked a three bagger and later scored himself. With the score a tie, and both teams fighting desperately the game went an extra inning when the Hook team batted in two runs and won the game.

Illike pitched a star game for the Hooks, striking out ten men, while Connell fanned eight batters. Both teams pulled off good and fast sliding.

Fourteen Innings to Tie.

Rain stopped the game between the Independents and the Benton team at Benton yesterday afternoon after the ball players played fourteen innings to a tie—5 to 5. The game was one of the best played at Benton in a long time, and a chance to score and win the game was cut off by a brilliant play. Up to the seventh inning the Paducah boys had the game 4 to 1, but several bobbles allowed Benton to score three men and tied the score. In the eighth inning Goodman was scored, but Benton scored too, and the game was a dog-fall. Five extra innings of play and each team failed to score. The features of the game was the pitching of Sanders for the Independents, while Black for Benton had some curves in stock. Sanders assisted in preventing defeat by knocking a home run. McChesney played a splendid game in left garden, while Elliott in right pulled off some brilliant catches. Goodman on short did good work and Williams in center spot pulled down the flies. Mercer on third sack was a star. He pulled off a one-handed catch of a line drive that was a peach and lined out four safe ones out of five times at bat.

The Independents lined up: Jones, c; Sanders, p; Henneberger, 1b; Fisher, 2b; Mercer, 3b; Goodman, ss; McChesney, lf; Williams, cf, and Elliott and McGinnis, rf.

Night Riders Lost.

The Wallersteins won from the Night Riders yesterday morning in a closely contested game by a score of 3 to 2. Players on both sides made some good catches. R Mercer was the star fielder for the Wallersteins, while Harry Mercer lined out a drive that missed being a homer only by a few inches. Good and fast fielding was done by both teams. Jenkins

ROUSTER DROWNS

FALLS FROM THE DUNBAR AT CAIRO SUNDAY.

Clayton Ridley Slips Overboard Just As Excursion Starts Back for Paducah.

The Sunday excursion steamer Dunbar lost one of its faithful "rousters" by the name of Clayton Ridley, when she pulled out of Cairo yesterday afternoon. As to just how this negro met his death it was difficult to ascertain. All the rousters say that he just fell over. As he attempted to take in the line at the captain, he slipped and fell overboard. The boat was immediately stopped and a diligent effort was made to find his body but to no avail.

Polishing a Diamond.
The polishing of a diamond is a very slow process, because of the great hardness of the material; besides this, the work must be frequently interrupted to allow the disk to cool after it has become overheated by friction. Each time a new facet is to be cut the diamond must be removed from the dop and reset at another angle, and the diamond cutter trusts to his eye alone to guide him in this delicate adjustment, although in the case of very small diamonds a magnifying glass is necessary. The skill shown in placing the stone in the heated metal, sometimes with the bare hand, is surprising. The regular brilliant has fifty-six facets, besides the table and the culet, thirty-two above the girdle and twenty-four below; but as eight facets are first formed, both above and below each of these being reset into three or four smaller ones, there are considerably more than fifty-six separate surfaces to be cut.

GREAT ENGINEER

DIES SUDDENLY AT HASTINGS ON-THE-HUDSON.

Lefferts L. Buck, Well Known in This City—Wife in Michigan.

Lefferts L. Buck, 72 years old, one of the best known civil engineers in the country, died suddenly at his home at Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., Saturday with a stroke of apoplexy. At the time of his death Mrs. Buck was in Michigan, where she is spending the summer with relatives from Paducah. The death of Mr. Buck will be received with surprise, as despite the fact of his advanced age he was unusually active.

He was well known in Paducah, as he married Miss Mira Gould, and frequently visited Paducah. His last visit was when the Lincoln centenary was celebrated at Hodgenville. Mrs. Mary Palmer and Miss Fannie Gould are sisters of Mrs. Buck and Mr. William Gould, of New York, is a brother. Mrs. Buck with Miss Fannie Gould, are spending the summer at Cady Lake, Mich.

Mr. Buck was a leading engineer of the country, and gained distinction by his work. He was engineer of the Brooklyn bridge, and designed the cantilever bridge over Niagara Falls.

Miss Ida Belle Nelson, Miss Ida Belle Nelson, of 1218 Broadway, died at 11:40 o'clock Saturday morning at the age of 41 years from cancer. She had been confined to her bed for several months. She was a daughter of the late R. T. Nelson and was born and reared in Paducah. She is the last of the children and her mother survives her. The funeral was held this afternoon at the residence, the Rev. G. T. Sullivan, pastor of the Broadway Methodist church, officiating. The burial was in Oak Grove.

Dorothy Rotterger, Little Miss Dorothy Fredrika Rotterger, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Rotterger, Jr., of the Cairo road, died this morning. She was a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hummel; Mr. H. W. Rotterger, Sr., and great-granddaughter of Mrs. Dora Kolb. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the residence, the Rev. William Grother officiating. The body will be buried in Oak Grove cemetery. The pallbearers are Willie Neumann, Carl Neuman, Harold Hummel and Willie McCutcheon.

NEW FORECASTS FOR THE WEEK

STRIKE SITUATION IN PENNSYLVANIA.

The Tariff Question Claims Its Share of Interest—Persian Change of Rulers—Peru-Bolivia.

DISPUTE FEATURES OF NEWS.

Washington, July 19.—The tariff situation will be a matter of absorbing interest at home this week, while the new ruler in Persia and the dispute between Peru and Bolivia will be the features of the foreign fields.

The naval court to endeavor to determine the cause of the death of Lieut. Sutton, of the marine corps, will meet at Annapolis Monday.

Monday promises to be a day of anxiety at McKee's Rock, Pa., when it is expected an effort will be made to resume work in the Schenckville plant of the Pressed Steel Car company. The trouble, which has already caused much bloodshed and several fatalities, does not yield readily to adjustment. Rioting in the plant of the Standard Steel Car company at Lyndora, it is feared, will tend to encourage further disorder at McKee's Rocks.

The two tunnels of the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad company, which will connect lower New York and Jersey City, will be opened Monday.

The National Editorial association open their convention at Seattle Monday. The National Travelers' association begins their meeting at Chicago Thursday.

DEFENDS TAX

WILL NOT INJURE SOUND COMPANIES.

Attorney General Weeks Out That Returns Can Be Made As Amendment Requires.

Washington, July 19.—Declaring that any corporation which "keeps just and true books of account" can make up the return required by the proposed corporation tax law, and meeting other attacks on that measure, Attorney General Wickesham today made public a letter he has written to a Wall Street firm of accountants who challenged some provisions of the proposed law as "absolutely impossible of application" and others as violative of all the accepted principles of sound accounting.

The firm addressed is Deloitte, Plender, Griffiths & Co., of New York. Mr. Wickesham advises them that their statement that the law as framed was impossible of application surprises him; that the objections they make are entirely insufficient to support such a conclusion as they express.

Attorney General Wickesham, who framed the corporation tax amendment to embody the administration's views, meets the objections of the accountants in detail.

Defends Report Clause.
He points out that the proposed law does not impose a tax on "profits" but on "the entire net income over and above $5,000 received by the corporation, joint stock company or association, or insurance company subject to the law from all sources during such year."

"It has been the uniform practice of the government in framing revenue bills," he added, "to require the tax to be paid on a fixed date and so far as I have been able to ascertain in every instance the tax is imposed for the calendar year ending December 31. Such was the income tax law of 1849. It may be inconvenient, but it is certainly not impossible for any corporation which keeps just and true books of account to make up a return such as that required by the proposed law, particularly as the return requires statements of actual receipts and payments, and not, as you recommend in your communication, of expenses 'incurred,' interest 'accrued' and losses 'ascertained.'"

Australian Railways.

Three principal gauges of line are used on the various railways in the commonwealth of Australia. The most common gauge, 3 1/2 feet, is used on about 7,000 miles of line, scattered over five of the states. The 5 feet and 3-inch gauge is second in importance, and the 4 feet 8 1/2-inch gauge, used only in New South Wales, third, with 3,472 miles of line. There are also 82 miles of 2 1/2 feet gauge and three miles of 2 feet gauge. Standardization has been proposed, but no action has been taken.

Hallard County Wedding.

Miss Annie Rothrock and Dr. Harry Melton, prominent young people of Wickliffe, were married Saturday by the Rev. M. E. Dodd. After the ceremony the couple left for Dawson Springs and Louisville on a ten days' bridal trip. The bride is a pretty young woman, while the groom is a rising young physician in Hallard county. The couple was accompanied by Misses Zelma Edwards and Bertha Melton and Mr. Ed Dunn.

er volume moves northward. Little coal goes south by water. There is also an important movement of general merchandise. There is some use of Gulf rivers as feeders, bringing bulk freight to central ports.

"Pacific coast—On the Pacific coast the principal bulk freight consists of lumber moving south and oil north; there is also considerable merchandise freight. There is a large trade with Alaska. The river traffic is relatively of much less importance.

"The Great Lakes—More than 50 per cent of this trade is bulk, with very advanced terminal development and very low transportation costs. This is due to an extraordinary combination of concentrated supplies of raw material at each end and a corresponding demand at the opposite end. Eighty per cent of the shipments and receipts of ore, coal, and grain are handled at a dozen ports. Three-fourths of the total Lake movement is eastward and southward—iron ore (45,000,000 net tons shipped in 1907), grain and flour (5,600,000 tons), and lumber (2,700,000). The total westward and northward traffic in 1906 was 18,500,000 tons, of which almost 17,000,000 tons was coal, almost the only item of bulk load for the ore freighters. Not over 5 per cent of the traffic of the Lakes moves out of them by water into United States territory. Domestic shipments of lumber and grain are declining (although the Canadian grain traffic is increasing). General merchandise freight is about 10 per cent of the lake traffic.

"Rivers and Canals.
"This is the third branch of our transportation system. Its traffic, in general, is declining, especially on the Mississippi river system and inland canals. Up to 1855 on the New York canals, including the Erie, was more than twice that of the railroads crossing New York state; in 1872 it was one-third, and now it is less than 3 per cent. The total traffic of all state and private canals has declined from 16,000,000 tons in 1880 to about 6,600,000 tons in 1906.

"The Mississippi river system presents our greatest waterway problem. Its traffic has greatly declined since the building of parallel railroads. Excluding harbor and raft traffic, it was about 19,000,000 tons in 1906, mainly coal, lumber, railroad ties, sand, gravel, oil, cotton, sugar, rice, and farm products. But the cotton traffic is surprisingly small, considering the nearness of cotton plantations and cotton markets. The only prosperous exception of importance is the coal traffic downstream. This constitutes about 56 per cent of the entire vessel traffic on the Mississippi system. It is a highly developed long-distance bulk traffic, with the coal produced in enormous quantities directly on the river bank, near the Pittsburgh district. It is, however, practically confined to markets immediately along the banks.

"Otherwise, the river traffic is in a discouraging state. The great through business of earlier times no longer exists. The traffic history of St. Louis well illustrates this situation. River shipments there in 1830 were over 600,000 tons; in 1906, 89,000 tons. Rail shipments, on the other hand, in 1890 were about 5,000,000 tons; in 1906, 17,000,000 tons.

"There are some small increases. Small gasoline boats doing a local business have increased, especially in feeder traffic on tributary streams. In 1906 there were 550 of such boats.

"The situation in the Mississippi valley is significant and serious. There is a vast and growing amount of freight in that valley to be moved both north and south; there has been, and doubtless will be again, extreme traffic congestion there. Even during the severest congestion the Mississippi river got a very small and a decreasing share of the traffic. This condition is highly unsatisfactory.

"There are two basic causes: First, the physical conditions, variations in water level and the enormous deposit of sediment; second, the destructive competition by the parallel railroads, in general refusing to share the traffic with the river. Part of this report, now in course of preparation, will deal with this further. It is sufficient to say now that rail competition is a most important factor in water traffic, and that some cooperation between railroads and waterways seems absolutely necessary to insure a reasonable use of our rivers. It is a public evil that our entire transportation system should be, as now, at odds with itself, wasting its strength in destructive internal warfare while the transportation needs of the public suffer.

"Part I, already issued, considered the physical conditions of the waterways. Equally important are traffic conditions—what traffic is available, and how can it be secured?
"Traffic is an absolute essential for the development of the waterways system. One of the most practical methods of improving waterways, and especially terminals, is to secure for them a fair amount of business, thus insuring their higher development by private interests. This is shown by the ore and coal business on the lakes. At present our river and canal system, hampered by its natural defects, in unrestricted competition with the unified, standardized rail system, is helpless to secure for itself a reasonable share of the freight. It therefore can not afford to provide transportation facilities worthy of its great possibilities. Whatever may be the limitations of the waterways system, it is clear that certain easily made improvements in channels, port terminals, and especially in the regulation of the relation of railroads and waterways, can secure for the waterways a far greater proportion of business and lead to a great improvement in their condition."

Daily Thought.

His words in the meeting do not make up for short weight in the market.

Nothing the executive can do with congress now will relieve us of the tax on our patience.

Whether or not Bolivia really fears

the Peruvian dogs of war; there is no gainsaying the Peruvian bark.

We believe if the congressmen had played that game with a yarn ball

the score would have been different.

Bad eggs have been sent from northwestern packing plants to the department of commerce and labor.

It is customary to send our bad eggs to the legislative department at Washington.

Some of those knowing gentlemen,

inclined to speculate, and still retaining confidence in the publicists, who made erroneous predictions as to the outcome of the last national election, may hold a personal grievance against the president for interfering

at the last moment with the senatorial schedules.

SOCIALISM AND SOCIALISTS.

We fear some of our Socialist brethren are inclined to make Socialism their religion instead of their politics. No one can find fault with the Eutopian vision, to which they point as the ultimate aim of their endeavor; but no one can join the ranks of the Socialists because he desires to hasten the true era of the brotherhood of man. We can conceive of no rational, normal human being today, who does not long for the same happy condition of the race.

The fact that we are not all Socialists should be proof enough to the average person that the Socialist organization has not found the magic, by which the evolution of social development is to be hastened by a revolution; for, assuming that the average

Democrat and Republican, for instance, is as intelligent and sincere

as the average Socialist, we must agree that when the Socialist presents the right remedy for existing conditions the majority in favor of it will be utterly overwhelming.

Here's an important thing. We might adopt the remedies suggested by the Socialists and men would not be happy. A minimum amount of work, comforts, time for travel and culture, freedom from vice—all or any of these will not give men happiness, or contentment. Did that ever occur to a Socialist? He could remember conditions that obtained in the original garden of Eden, and the tragedy of the human soul would be enacted all over again.

No one excepting the rich knows that there is no joy in riches. No one but the scholar knows that purely intellectual development and attainment are only heights from which to gain a wider vision of human despair. The traveler longs for home. The idle go mad for employment. The druggies turn bitter against the drones. Power loses its fascination, once seized. The monarch sees in the irresponsible peasant an enviable condition. The peasant dreams of palaces and a gratification of his senses.

The desire for happiness has stimulated the human mind, and been the inspiration of poetry and philosophy for ages. Love is the expression of

it. Tragedy is but the expression of the converse. On this desire have hinged the multitudinous religions of man; for it was learned long ago that happiness is in the heart, not in the environments. We can look about us today among the classes,

described by the Socialist writers as

"industrial slaves"—among people

on whom fortune has seemed to impose most outrageously, through sickness, death, infirmities, social burdens and small income—and meet the gladdest souls we ever saw. Did you ever see a glad Socialist? Did you ever see a kind "captain of industry," as they are fondly called by their sycophants? Who are these two distinctly unhappy? Maybe, there is principle involved. It is because the latter has devoted his attention to material gain and selfish acquisition,

and the former has fastened his eyes

on the other's gain, and anothered

his soul in covetousness.

We do not wish to preach; but our

Socialists have adopted the word

"brother," and claim for their object

the "brotherhood of man." A trifle less than 2,000 years ago a Mnn of Gallies adopted this same theory of life; and every good thing in government and social and domestic life we possess today came from that man.

The Socialists, we believe, claim for their theories the practical application of that Man's doctrines. His very words as we recall them were:

"And this is my command; that ye love one another."

Now, let us measure the Socialist by that standard. Did you ever attend a Socialist speaking and hear

one of their orators talk about his

"brothers," who were not present?

We assume that the "captains of industrial," the "drones," the "masters," and the men, who do not work with their brawn, are their "brothers."

How should one speak of his brother? How should one proceed to bring about that feeling of brotherhood? By dividing the humanity into two classes, arraying them against each other and declaring they are at enmity? Let the Socialist consider all men his brothers in his own heart

(for there is where brotherhood must dwell) and then let him make such a speech as he would wish a "brother"

to make about him. Socialism and Christianity may be aiming at the same ultimate objects, but Socialism and Christianity are certainly not taking the same road to reach it.

Socialists are bound to agree with this: when the feeling of the brotherhood of man fades lodgement in every heart, all those conditions, for which they soul yearn will be spontaneously developed; but he must not ask us to believe that his bitter talk will produce that feeling of brotherhood,

or that the imposition of a Socialistic form of government will eradicate the selfishness from the hearts of men.

We know the Socialist has fallen out with the church, and believes the church is for the rich and affluent.

Men believe this, who are earning more, working eight hours a day in the health giving open, than are most eighteen hour toilers over desks. Yet, we think they are mistaken. Nineteen centuries of Christianity have simply aroused in them a spirit of impatience with conditions antagonistic to its teachings. Lack of individual research, and overmuch hearing of vehement oratory have provoked unwholesome prejudices, and those, who prate of the brotherhood of man, are cultivating a feeling of hate against those they call their brothers. Which reminds us that

"A little learning is a dangerous thing;

"Drink deep, or taste not of the Plerian spring."

Humanity is developing upward and onward. A glance over history should encourage these bitter ones to hope and wait. Yet we would not ask them to cease their striving and yearning. It is slow work. We have much selfishness to contend with in dragging ourselves up the summit.

May the Socialist see that in his class distinctions and incentives against property holders, he does not add to the weight of selfishness already almost too much for us.

He must divorce his theories from the question of labor and capital.

Because his recruits come mostly from the ranks of manual laborers,

the experience and observations of men, whose horizon is limited to their own industrial relations, naturally creep to the front, and so, we believe, the class idea, so frequently met with in Socialistic discussions, is a self-imposed artificial restriction of their own.

The emancipation of labor is the wonder of the centuries. Mighty few

Americans, laboring men or capitalists, do not trace their ancestry back to a Saxon, Anglo-Saxon or Swede,

for instance. Today the tariff discussion centers around legal points touching labor. The last administration and this have been agitating a new employers' liability law; encouraging congresses for the betterment of home life; forcing capital to treat with labor, and devising means to control great combinations with which labor is principally concerned.

Labor unions are teaching the lesson of self-denial, and need only the belief that men outside their unions

are their brothers to make them

Difference in Customs.

"An Englishman looks on it as a deadly breach of etiquette to begin conversation with a stranger, and if one he does not know presumes to start to talking to him, he plainly indicates that a liberty has been taken, either by turning his back or making no reply," said Mr. W. M. Ashburton of London, at the Helvidere.

"I used to entertain this same notion before much travel in all parts of the world caused me to lay aside my native reticence and reserve. Now I like the German way better. In that country if one goes into a private room where he is unknown to the assembled company, he goes briskly about among those present offering his hand and pronouncing his name to everybody. This custom of self-introduction prevails universally throughout the Kaiser's dominions; it is good for it makes for friendliness and the interchange of ideas. In hotels, restaurants or railway hotels, steamboats, or wherever they may be drawn together, Germans will not remain strangers to each other. On the contrary in England men would never know each other unless introduced by a third person. In that country it is a very serious thing to effect introductions which is a symptom of the racial conservatism. A Briton hesitates to effect introduction, unless between people he is quite sure are of something like an equal status, and for whom mutual acquaintance would be agreeable."—Baltimore American.

WAS MANNER OF HAYS GRATTY'S
MURDER.Stranger Demands Road and Shoots Railroad Man Down in Dark.

Cairo, Ill., July 19.—A tragedy was enacted about 2 o'clock this morning on the county road between the Half Way house and the residence of C. O. Patter, in which a railroad man named Hays Gratty lost his life.

It appears that Gratty and a companion, John Crane, were driving down from the Half Way house in a buggy and met some one walking in the road, who commanded them to "give him the road." As they passed the man the latter fired a shot, the bullet passing through Gratty's head and killing him almost instantly.

The dead man was brought into Cairo and turned over to Burke & Blaine for attention; and an inquest will be held by Coroner McManus today.

Crane could not tell whether the murderer was a negro or a white man, as it was dark. Both men resided in Mound. Gratty is an engineer on the Illinois Central railroad. He has a family at Mound.

JEFFRIES ANNOUNCES
PLANS FOR HIS FUTURE.

Chicago, Ill., July 19.—James J. Jeffries and Jackson Johnson failed to meet here today, according to the schedule outlined by their representatives. Jeffries was at the appointed place, but Johnson did not leave his training camp in Indiana until late in the day, and said that he would not meet Jeffries. Jeffries issued a signed statement later, in which he said:

"In view of the many conflicting reports regarding my intentions, I will make my plans public, as follows: 'At the conclusion of my theatrical career, which will be July 25, I will sail for Europe for a two or three weeks' visit to Carlsbad. Before sailing I will post my forfeit to meet Johnson before the club offering the best inducements and best situated to hold the contest.'

"Sam Harger, who will act as my pugilistic manager, will remain over here and consider offers for the match and will have all the details in readiness for final signature when I return. I sincerely hope that my action will quiet the doubts of those who have questioned the sincerity of my intentions."

BIRMINGHAM WETS STIRRED UP.

Drys Allege 108 Poll Taxes Unlawfully Paid.

Bristol, Va., July 19.—The wet leaders here are somewhat exercised over the contest petition filed this morning, alleging that 103 persons, whose names are not given, did not pay their poll tax out of their own funds, as provided by law.

Two years ago it was a matter of common comment that both sides were paying poll taxes and taking promissory notes, and therefore, the wets are not so uneasy about the charge that more than 100 persons living and having their homes in the Tennessee half of the city outside of the corporate limits voted wet in the election.

They point to the fact, which is admitted by the majority of the Tennesseans who claim their citizenship in Virginia are dry, and that they helped to vote Bristol, Va., dry two years ago, and the opposition did not raise the question.

The petition is signed by 37 persons. It alleges, among other things, that some of the wet voters, who are called by name, have been convicted of crime and are thereby disqualified. It asks that the illegal votes be thrown out.

If their contention is sustained the changed result would show a decisive dry majority.

Where Dante May Have Studied.

St. Edmund's Hall, Oxford, the independence of which seems threatened by neighboring Queen's college, is now the sole survivor of the original "halls" from which university life arose at Oxford. It bears the name not of the martyred Saxon monarch, but of Archbishop Edmund, who, possibly about 1219, delivered near this spot the first Oxford lectures on Aristotle. This legend once enabled the present principal to retort that if Dante really visited Oxford he might conceivably have studied at St. Edmund's Hall, but not at Queen's college, which did not then exist.—Westminster Gazette.

The Brown-Tail Moth.

A somewhat impractical Harvard professor imported the gypsy moth for experimental study. The egg cluster that one day blew out of its academic window has cost the state of Massachusetts a pretty penny. That Commonwealth spent last year some $300,000 in its campaign against the brown-tail moth, introduced in a shipment of roses from Holland. Now this variety, which manifests a ravenous longing for the foliage of apple trees, white and red oak, willow and elm trees, and is voracious of all manner of shrubbery, vines, flowers and garden "raas," appears in this state in the neighborhood of a gentleman who has had dealings with a firm of Boston nurserymen.

The brown-tail moth should have short shrift. Its fecundity is amazing. The poisonous nature of its contact with human individuals is undoubted, as our brethren of Massachusetts will testify. They permitted its spread, nevertheless, before resorting to methods for its extermination. Its appearance near Rye, on the line between this state and Connecticut, has been under official surveillance almost from the beginning. It may be effectually stamped out. We trust that the Agricultural Department of both states will be lavish in spending money to this end.—New York Times.

F. S. Postal Service.

The beginning of the postal service in what is now the United States dates from 1639, when a house in Boston was employed for the receipt of letters for and from the Old World. In 1672 the government of New York colony established a post to go monthly from New York to Boston. A general postoffice was established in Virginia in 1692 and in Philadelphia in 1693. In 1759, when the federal government went into operation, the number of offices in the thirteen states was only about seventy-five.—New York American.

From this time, until further notice, no candidate will be permitted to cast more than enough certificates, or pink slip votes, to place him more than 5,000 ahead of the leader at the preceding publication of scores.

For instance, if the leader of the entire contest has 20,000 votes to his credit at the last publication of scores, a candidate will not be allowed to vote more than enough certificates to make his score 25,000 in the next publication.

This restriction does not apply to the coupon votes clipped from the Sun or associate papers.

No candidate will be permitted to lead two days in succession if any other candidate has enough votes to pass him.

Candidates in The Sun and Associate Newspapers' Great Voting Contest are this week offered an unusually liberal bonus and a special sale on long-term subscriptions. Careful consideration of the terms of these two offers will immediately show the advantage to be gained by profiting by them. The contest is now drawing to a close and no opportunity to win votes can be neglected. This is the most important week so far and the work done between now and Saturday night must be made to tell.

Mixed Bonus Offer.

The first MIXED BONUS is offered this week. For every $25 worth of either old or new subscriptions, or both, turned in between Monday, July 19, and Saturday, July 24, TWENTY THOUSAND EXTRA VOTES will be issued. The liberality of this offer is at once evident. Nothing so liberal will be offered again during the contest. A smaller bonus may be put on next week, and the week following NONE will be offered.

Long-Term Subscriptions.

The special offer of the week and of the entire contest is an extraordinary

MOTHERS WHO HAVE DAUGHTERS

Find Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Winchester, Ind.—"Four doctors told me that they could never make me regular, and that I would eventually have dropsy. I would bleed, and suffer from bearing down pains, cramps and chills, and I could not sleep nights. My mother wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

After taking one and one-half bottles of the Compound, I am all right again, and I recommend it to every suffering woman."—Mrs. MAY DEAL, Winchester, Ind.

Hundreds of such letters from girls and mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them have been received by The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands have been restored to health by its use.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Many a scale for long-term subscriptions. This offer also dates from Monday and expires Saturday night. This is the week for candidates to see friends who have promised to do something worth while for them before the contest is over. Your friends can help you most by giving you long-term subscriptions, and their help will count for more THIS WEEK than it ever will again.

For instance, under the terms of the special sale offered this week, two new five-year mail subscriptions to The Sun will entitle you to 112,500 votes, and the bonus the $30 gets you brings the total up to 132,500. A five-year carrier subscription to The Sun entitles you to 75,000 votes, which, with the bonus, gives you 95,000—just for one subscription. The scale also applies to the associate newspapers and is as liberal for them as for The Sun.

A few long-term subscriptions this week will be of immense help. Carefully study the scale and see how liberal it is.

Carrier subscriptions to THE SUN:
	Old sub.	New sub.
3 years	$15	20,000	40,000
5 years	$25	37,500	75,000
Mail subscriptions to The Sun:
3 years	$9	15,000	30,000
5 years	$15	25,125	50,250
Subscriptions to the Associate Newspapers:
3 years	$3	5,000	10,000
5 years	$5	9,375	18,750

To candidates who live out of Paducah the Contest Department offers this week a FIFTY DOLLAR GOLD WATCH. This watch will be awarded to the candidate who turns in the most money during the week, and the name of the winner will be published next week. Subscriptions taken last week CANNOT be applied on this week's turn-in in taking advantage of the offer.

There are but three weeks more of the contest—after this week just twelve working days. Not an hour can be wasted until the end.

Mind Reader.
Pat had got hurt—not much more than a scratch. It is true, but his employer had visions of being compelled to keep him for life, and had adopted the wise course of sending him to the hospital. After the house surgeon had examined him carefully, he said to the nurse:

"An subcutaneous abrasion is not observable. I do not think there is any reason to apprehend tegmental electrization of the wound."

Then, turning to the patient, he asked quizzically:

"What do you think, Pat?"

"Sure, sir," said Pat, "you're a wonderful thought reader. You took the very words out of my mouth. That's just what I was going to say."

STEPHENS SUES FOR DAMAGES

ALLEGED NIGHT RIDERS OF LAMASCO DEFENDANTS.

Says That He Was Run Out of the State and His Life Was Threatened.

HE HELPED THE OFFICERS

Damages to the extent of $20,000 are asked by Tom Stephens, who has filed a suit in federal court, against the alleged night riders of Lyon and Cabell counties. In his suit, he names 25 defendants as responsible for driving him from the state. The defendants are: Alonzo Gray, Tom Jones, Henry Rogers, Marshall Gray, Oscar Oliver, Luther Gray, Milton Oliver, Bob Gray, Dolphus Hanberry, A. L. Barnett, H. T. Gray, Dave Williams, Ed Gray, Joseph Klun, Levi Oliver, J. Pitts, Charles Davis, Henry Heath, H. Coleman, John Monewmacker, Gray Thorp, Hazy Gillespie, Will Cummins, Will Marshall, Syke Hodge.

Stephens states that he was a resident of Lyon county in 1908 when he was forced to join a secret band, known as "night riders" and the "silent brigade," organized for the purpose of making raids, burning barns and whipping men. He says he was sworn into the order for the purpose of making an illegal raid on Ed Davis. He left the state through fear, but returned to Lyon county to attend the funeral of his mother. While on his return trip he says that the defendants on July 6, 1908, captured him, and took him to an old well several miles from his home and tied rocks to his body and intended to drown him. He pleaded he said that he was saved. He promised to leave the state and is now a resident of Illinois. By reason of his departure he says he has suffered $800 property loss, and has been damaged to the extent of $20,000 by the humiliation, suffering and mistreatment. The suit was filed by Miller & Miller.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

Gotham's Windowless Den.

A substantial square, single-story brick structure occupies practically the entire backyard of a certain respectable brown-stone residence in West Forty-third street.

One of several peculiar things about this backyard structure is its lack of windows. A row of small round portholes about twenty feet from the ground apparently furnishes it with air, but not with light. The roof, too, although it has a ventilating apparatus, seems to have no skylight. No one on the outside evidently could possibly look into the building. It is entirely safe from evidence getters and spies.

Another strange thing about the back yard building is the way in which it is connected with the very respectable looking brown stone house in front of it. The connection is apparently a short passageway a few feet above the ground. But this passage is carefully masked both by an unusually high board fence and a white and buff burling. An iron grating also runs all the way up between the two buildings as high as the rear structure's roof.

This odd, windowless backyard building is a constant source of curiosity to the transient guests of the near-by hotels and to the young members of the adjacent college clubs who look out on it from their back windows. It is so obviously not a factory, restaurant, or dwelling. It is deserted now, and the bricks are beginning to show weather wear from lack of painting.

It is said to have been once one of the biggest and most notorious roulette rooms in the city during wide-open days under Tammany Hall.—New York Times.

HOW HENRY CLEWS VIEWS IT

New York, July 19. (Special).— Until the last few days the stock market has been at a practical standstill for a month. While a few specialties had made further advances, the market as a whole remained substantially at the same level; this in spite of improving outside conditions.
The disposition to wait the outcome of both the harvest and the tariff, added to the usual summer inertia, accounted for much of the recent inactivity. But the main reason for the latter was the dogged persistence with which the market was held at the high level. There was every indication of a number of stocks being firmly pegged by powerful speculative cliques, who seem to realize at last that the only means by which they can be distributed is to infuse fresh activity and life into the whole market.

The effort to force the market to a higher level was renewed this week with a vigor which showed that powerful and skillful manipulators are now in control. The question is will they succeed? It must be admitted that circumstances in many respects are much in their favor. Money is cheap and plentiful. Business, though not yet up to the normal volume, is steadily improving. The crop outlook, except for cotton, is very satisfactory; and, as everyone knows, our farmers are confidently looking forward to another very profitable season.
Even cotton is likely to do better than now feared, because damage reports have unquestionably been exaggerated, and there is at least two months for possible recuperation.

Confidence generally in business circles is strong. The spirit of hopefulness prevails nearly everywhere, and all the influences at work are such as would naturally tend to discouraging the selling of securities. At the same time there is an element of weakness in the situation that is generally overlooked. The big holders have plenty of securities for sale, and more are coming in large amounts.
Some big operators are anxious to sell in order to realize the handsome profits now offered. Their only difficulty is want of buyers. Both the public and investors generally apparently are difficult to tempt at these figures; and it is noticeable that the market often declines on good news from unexpected inside selling, making the average buyer exceedingly cautious, and properly
so. There is no question but that values are excessively high. In many cases quotations are above the highest existing before the panic; and no one pretends that business, although better than a year ago, has resumed normal activity. At present many stocks are yielding very small returns on their market values, and if dividends do not go up prices must eventually go down. A setback in business, an important injury to the crops or a sharp advance in money rates would quickly incite a sharp reaction. Fortunately these events are more in the range of possibilities than probabilities, though there is every chance of money working firmer when the usual crop and business demands begin. The big leaders have evidently concluded that the only way to get rid of their stocks is to create more active market. By such means it is calculated that a good distribution can be effected at handsome profits to holders. This may broaden the market and bring in a much needed new buying element. There is plenty of money seeking investment; it is the inducements which are scarce, and the speculative spirit has not been aroused. Another element which prompted buyers to wait was the large new issues expected next month, including the Harriman and Gould financing. There is every indication of a large output of new securities during the next few months and it is well understood that some bankers are better prepared to share in this new financing than others.

Some of our best financiers and syndicate organizers have openly declined the market too high, while others who, apparently, have not yet got rid of their surplus stocks are optimistic in their talk and interviews regarding the prosperous condition of the country. It is worth while noting that these gentlemen have a habit of talking bullishly for public consumption when the market is approaching the top and they or their friends have stocks to sell.
No one questions the truth of their statements, nor does anyone suppose them to be put out from purely philanthropic motives.

Steel Trade.
The steel trade continues to show great improvement, the demand for steel products being genuine and large at advancing prices. Railroad earnings continue satisfactory, showing that traffic is constantly growing, the better returns now received being as much due to higher rates and reduced expenses as to the actual growth of traffic. There is more or less public complaint about high prices for farm products, and it must

SAGE FOR DARKENING THE HAIR.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect.
Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time, tedious method of gathering the herbs and making the brew. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy. This preparation is sold by all first-class druggists for 50c and $3.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price. For sale and recommended by W. J. Gilbert.

be admitted that in the absence of any important surplus that the chances for lower prices seem somewhat remote. We are promised a bumper corn crop, and it is evident that there will be a good demand for the entire yield at profitable prices.
The monetary situation is satisfactory, and while firmer rates must be looked for before long, no particular stringency is in sight. A feature in the banking situation is the tremendous expansion in loans, due more to stock market operations than to ordinary business requirements. More gold is going to Argentina on London account; but there is now no prospect of shipping the precious metal to Europe. Before long we shall be exporting cotton, also moderate amounts of grain. Of bonds, to, we are likely to send considerable sums to Europe, so that in some quarters figuring has already been attempted upon future gold imports.
A large issue of Panama bonds is imminent, and this in connection with other security issues is likely to make large loads on the supply of floating capital during the next few months.

In view of the present high prices
for stocks the market in the immediate future will not be a conservative accumulating one, but profitable for quick in and out trading, as it is likely to soon have infused into it greater activity in transactions and wide fluctuations, and thus made a good distributing market. As the big men have for sale stocks bought at low prices, the only way of disposing of them at high figures is through an excited market, which may be expected to be soon forthcoming.

TELLER SUICIDES BANK IS CLOSED

TOOK HIS LIFE RATHER THAN FACE DIRECTORS.

Was Short in His Accounts—San Francisco Bank Is Insolvent
Following Official's Rush Act.

EXPECT TO PAY ALL CLAIMS

San Francisco, Cal., July 19.— Baron William von Meyerlnck, former cashier of the State Savings and Commercial bank, and later paying teller of the Union State bank, with which the former institution was incorporated, shot himself through the head at his home in Larkspur, Marine county, some time yesterday afternoon, and was found dead on his bed by his wife last night. Almost simultaneously with the receipt of the news of Baron von Meyerlnck's suicide officials of the Union bank announced that the baron was short in his accounts.

Bank Superintendent Aiden Anderson closed the doors of the institution at a quarter to 11 o'clock this morning. Mr. Anderson says that the bank's shortage will reach $67,- 000, and will eat up its capital.

Baron von Meyerlnck was summoned yesterday afternoon to appear at the bank this morning, and it is believed that rather than face his former employers he chose to kill himself.

Deeded Over Property.
Last week, it is said he deeded all of his property over to the bank, including his pretty home in Larkspur.

Depositors have claims amounting to $140,000 against the bank. These,
Mr. Anderson thinks, will be paid in full when the assets of the bank are disposed of.

Baron von Meyerlnck was well known in San Francisco. He was about 43 years of age. He had resided in this city for fifteen years, and was a member of the German nobility but he preferred to live in this country. Several years ago he married. Baroness von Meyerlnck is a music teacher.

Baron von Meyerlnck's body was removed to the morgue at San Rafael by Coroner Sawyer this morning.

helped by the President of The Industrial and Orphan's Home at used Electric Bitters in this institution for nine years. It has proved a most excellent medicine for Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth." It invigorates the vital organs, purifies the blood, aids digestion, creates appetite. To strengthen and build up thin, pale, weak children or run-down people it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c at all druggists.

Flow of Sand in Tubes.
The flow of sand through tubes has been studied by C. E. Phillips. It seems, says the Scientific American,
that the rate at which the free surface of a column of sand descends in a powder from an orifice at the lower end, is independent of the head of sand above the opening. These experiments are intended to throw light upon the manner in which this result is brought about. By placing the powder in a Dissection tube faced with glass, and arranging dark layers at regular intervals, the relative motion of the particles at various places is rendered visible as the column diminishes. The "gurgling" tube indicates, by the curious sound it emits, that the flow of sand takes place through it intermittently.

Easy Answer.
A teacher in a small Oregon school was giving a lesson on the circulation of the blood; trying to make it clearer, he said: "Now, children, if I stood on my head, the blood, as you know, would run into it, and I should turn red in the face."

"Yes, sir," said they.

"Now, Arthur," continued the teacher, addressing a small boy,
"what I want to know is this: How is it that while I am standing upright in this ordinary position the blood doesn't run into my feet and turn them red?"

"Why, sir," answered Arthur, "because your feet ain't empty."—Sun-

BONI SAYS HE'LL MARRY.

Tells Creditors Bride Will Be George Gould's Daughter.

Paris, July 19.—Incredible as the story may seem, it is believed among certain well-informed people that Count Boni de Castellane has been re-establishing his credit around Paris by repeating "confidentially" that he is shortly to marry Miss Marjorie Gould, daughter of George Gould, when his finances would be fixed up to the satisfaction of all concerned.
Preposterous as such a story would appear, it is believed at Pre Catelan, the fashionable adjunct of the Cafe
de Paris in the Bois de Boulogne, where Count Boni has been lately giving entertainments rivaling those of Frederick Townsend Martin in luxury.

When asked if Count Boni paid his bills, the maitre de hotel of the Catelane replied: "No, but he had no fear of giving him all the credit he wanted, since Castellane was to marry Miss Gould."

The only condition that lends the slightest possible color to such an assumption is the fact that Mrs. George Gould and Miss Gould have been seen among the guests at Count Boni's entertainments.

Knowing our ability to use quantities of Optical Goods, he made us such a tempting offer to take the entire lot that we couldn't pass it by. There were 250 dozen, all told, embracing all kinds of Glasses, including rimmed and rimless, Eye Glasses or Spectacles, with or without rims—every style to fit all, and frames to fit every face. ### REPUBLICANS OF COUNTY NOMINATE

ADOPT STRONG RESOLUTIONS ON SATURDAY.

Proceedings of Convention in Detail as Carried Out at Court House.

A FEW ADDITIONAL NAMES

Lax business methods, ineptitude and extravagance in the transaction of the county's business, were roundly denounced Saturday afternoon when the Republicans of the county met at the court house and nominated a ticket for all the important county offices. The convention was full of optimism and every person present felt that the Republicans were the party of the hour to place the county back on a business basis. When the speakers made mention of the corrupt condition discovered in some of the county offices some of the Democrats, who were on-lookers, could not digest the exposure and quietly left the room.

The convention was held in the county court room, which was crowded to standing room. A business like air prevailed the crowd, and at no time was there any effort towards frivolity. When a speaker referred to the corrupt conditions of the county, there were vociferous expressions of approval. The meeting was called to order by County Chairman E. E. Bell, who read the call, and called for nominations for chairman. F. M. Fisher nominated City Attorney Arthur Y. Martin, and his election was unanimous. On taking the chair Mr. Martin thanked the convention for the honor, and straightway launched into a speech in which he held up the splendid chance for victory of the Republicans. He only referred to the conditions that made this chance possible in a county that only a few years ago was rated as a stronghold of Democracy. He said the people were ripe for a change, and pointed to the fact that the Democratic majority had slipped down little by little until in the last election the Democratic nominee for the legislature was elected by only a majority of 53 votes. He said after the election in November that McCracken county would be classed as a doubtful county.

Attorney John Egester, colored, was unanimously elected secretary. On motion of Chairman Arthur Martin appointed David Browning, Earl Palmer and J. R. Culp on the resolutions committee. After a short recess the committee reported and the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

First: Be it resolved by the Republicans of McCracken county in convention assembled, that we approve of the call for this convention at this time and place and we reaffirm our allegiance to the principles of the party as enunciated in the last national Republican platform adopted in 1908; and heartily endorse the wise, conservative and patriotic administration of President Taft thus far and bespeak for him one of the most successful and prosperous administrations in the history of our country.

Second: We heartily approve of and endorse the Republican state administration of this state, and declare it to be the duty of all good citizens of all parties to support Governor Augustus E. Wilson in his efforts to suppress lawlessness and anarchy, which to the lasting disgrace of our beloved state, existed during the last two years in many parts of the commonwealth. Without legislative assistance our governor has practically suppressed night-riding and secured once more protection of life and property and obedience to the laws.

Third: We condemn in unmeasured terms the careless, negligent and unbusiness like management of the fiscal affairs of McCracken county by Democratic officials. With deplorable incompetency, or a bold disregard for the interest of the taxpayers of the county, they have so handled the public moneys that an officer has been enabled to appropriate the public funds to his own use, for years and years without detection.

We pledge the people of McCracken county if given control of the county affairs, an honest, clean and economical administration, with a due regard, at all times, of the interest of the people. We pledge the installation of such business methods as will make it impossible for any officer to misuse the people's money; and we call on all voters of the county, who desire a clean and economical honest and business-like administration of the fiscal affairs of the county, to support the candidates named in the convention and make a long needed change in our county government possible.

D. BROWNING,
EARL PALMER,
J. R. CULP.

The Nominations.

After the reading of the resolutions the nominations began. Mr. Will Farley arose and said: "I arise to nominate a man for the office of county judge. We all know the need of a new judge. We have needed a change for some time, and now the voters realize it and we are ready to give it." After emphasizing the need of a young man, who had the judgment and foresight of an older man, Mr. Farley placed Attorney Thomas N. Hazell in nomination, and the nomination was unanimously ratified. Mr. Hazell responded to call for a speech and promised to pull off his coat and work for the success of the party. He reviewed the disgraceful conduct of the county's business, and if elected promised a clean administration, and as he took his seat the applause was loud.

For assessor Ed Hubbard nominated Alfred Collier. Mr. Hubbard pointed to the achievements of the Republican party, and said that the Democrats were only used as a relief course occasionally.

Dr. J. S. Trontman unanimously was made the Republican nominee for coroner on nomination by E. E. Bell. The office of county surveyor was left open and referred to the county committee to fill.

In a short speech Col John J. Dorlan nominated John W. Fry, of Melmore, for circuit court clerk. Mr. Fry was not present at the convention.

When nominations for the office of sheriff were called Mr. E. M. Fisher placed the name of T. E. Ford in nomination. He said: "The office of sheriff is a business one, and I desire to nominate a business man. A man who has been successful in his private business, and who has served the city well. While not a talker Mr. Ford replied:

"I appreciate the honor and I elected sheriff you will be proud you have nominated me as a candidate for sheriff."

For assessor Ed Hubbard nominated Alfred Collier. Mr. Hubbard pointed to the achievements of the Republican party, and said that the Democrats were only used as a relief course occasionally.

Dr. J. S. Trontman unanimously was made the Republican nominee for coroner on nomination by E. E. Bell. The office of county surveyor was left open and referred to the county committee to fill.

John Dunaway was placed in nomination for county jailer by O. B. Starks. After his unanimous nomination Mr. Dunaway responded with a short talk. He said: "I wish to tell you of this convention that I thank you. We have had a great deal of trouble with the jail in the last few months and if elected I will see that the outside walls are unmoistened."

George Lehnhard placed the name of L. B. Alexander in nomination for county school superintendent.

The magistrates nominated were: U. S. Walston, First district; J. J. Bleich, Second; J. J. Clark, Fourth; G. M. Spitzer, Fifth; W. A. H. Dunaway, Sixth; H. C. Champion, Seventh, and Oscar Corgill, Eighth.

J. W. Wharton, in the Fourth district; Lee Corlier, in the Fifth, and Thomas Fortson in the Eighth districts were nominated for constables. M. B. Tapscott was nominated as constable from the First magisterial district, and his nomination was made unanimous.

ANOTHER LEVEE BREAKS.

Sixty Thousand Acres of Fine Corn Destroyed in Missouri.

New Madrid, Mo., July 19.—From the end of the government levee, which has protected Mississippi county from the flood, the Mississippi river has overflowed everything to the high lands at New Madrid, backing up sloughs and ditches to the Cotton Belt railroad between Farmington and East Prairie, destroying thirty thousand acres of the finest corn in that rich region, most of the crop being ready to gather. The rock levee below Commerce was reported broken this afternoon, which doubles the above mentioned loss, making the total acres of corn ruined 60,000, valued at $300,000.

WHEN WIND BECAME ADVERSE.

Mincola, N. Y., July 19.—A climax to the aeroplane flights Glenn Curtiss has been making at Hempstead Plains, Long Island, with increasing success came Sunday when he sent his flyer 24.7 miles in 53 minutes and 30 seconds and qualified as the first candidate for the cup offered by the Scientific American.

The flight is not only Curtiss' best, but the longest made with an aeroplane in America this year. The cup for which the aviator tried was offered for the longest flight of this kind during the current year, the only condition being the winner must cover at least 25 kilometers over a measured course before judges of the Aero Club of America and land within 100 metres of the starting point.

Curtiss came to earth barely within the required distance, but the judges decided that he had complied with all the terms of the competition. He will win the Scientific American cup, which he also captured last year, at Hammondsport, N. Y., when his flight exceeded before the end of the year.

Made Good Time—The flight, although made at an early morning hour, was witnessed by a crowd of nearly 2,000 persons. Curtiss rose easily and circled the course at various altitudes, showing he had his machine well in hand.

At times his speed increased to 45 miles an hour, but the average of the whole distance was 28 1/2 miles an hour.

Too many think they are saints because it makes them sad to see a child happy.
